

Ecological Engineering

It harmonizes the relationship between technology and the environment, is able to control the negative impact of atmospheric, hydrosphere and lithosphere pollution on human health, develops waste-free technologies, tries to prevent the toxic effects of toxic wastes on living things and the biosphere, and nature. It trains professionals who are able to return, play a leading role in any field through a high level of technological development and have the ability to think innovatively. Personnel with this specialty can work in the following areas:

- Ministry of Ecology and Natural Resources of the Republic of Azerbaijan and its regional branches
- Ministry of Agriculture of the Republic of Azerbaijan
- Universities
- Special training centers
- Private companies
- The section of the HSE (Health, Safety and Environment)